

10th November, 2014

To Whom it may Concern

Western Adelaide Domestic Violence Service (WADVS) is a non-government organisation funded to work with women and children who have or who are experiencing domestic violence in their relationships. WADVS support women by offering crisis accommodation and outreach support and this is inclusive of risk assessment and safety planning.

Recently, Tony Loughhead has introduced himself to WADVS offering driving support and assistance to our client group.

Sharyn Dixon
Manager