To Whom It May Concern

I am a Youth Job Coach in the Transition to Work programme at Workskil Australia. The Transition to Work Programme is a service to support young people between 15 and 21 years of age to build their skills and confidence to obtain employment.

Tony has provided driving lessons and assisted many of the young people in this programme who are anxious and experience learning difficulties to gain their licences. The young people have always provided feedback that Tony is patient and goes above and beyond in his instruction, providing support as required. Allowing Tony to qualify for accreditation will fill a need and benefit our young people to assist them in their journey to gain employment.

If you require further information, please call me on the below number provided below.
